

— For Immediate Release —

Carol E. Farren
2010/2011 NAPW Professional Woman of the Year
A Role Model in Facilities Management

Carol E. Farren, CMC, CFM, President of Facility Management World Wide, Ltd., is being honored as a 2010/2011 Professional Woman of the Year in Project Management by National Association of Professional Women, a prestigious distinction awarded by the 200,000-strong membership of NAPW.

Corporate growth is the aspiration of all business owners, but the headache of expanding facilities and relocation is something most would rather avoid. Carol Farren, President of Facility Management World Wide (FMWW), helps these companies revel in their success by creating painless, customized relocation strategies for companies in complex office environments.

Ms. Farren offers a unique combination of management consulting and project management for globally recognized clients, including Hearst Magazines, Scholastic Magazines, Clear Channel and the United Nations. Ms. Farren is there every step of the way, from conceptual planning and space calculation, design and renovation, to the big move itself. Ms. Farren minimizes disruption to restore corporate efficiency as quickly as possible, empowering performance, profitability, and continued growth.

Ms. Farren's illustrious 30-year career in Facility Management is endorsed by the International Facility Management Association (IFMA) where she was named a Fellow, in recognition of her leadership within the organization and in numerous high-profile corporate design and relocation projects.

Ms. Farren communicates her expertise through her book, Planning & Managing Interior Projects - Second Edition. Ms. Farren's comprehensive text addresses such subjects as downsizing, mergers, and information technology, and their impact on workspace design. Ms. Farren has received national acclaim for her work and, as a result, her text is used in classrooms nationwide.

Ms. Farren earned her Master degree in Business Administration from New York University's Stern School of Business and her undergraduate degree from Cornell University.

Carol E. Farren
CMC, CFM, IFMA Fellow
President

Company:
Facility Management World Wide, Ltd.

Awards & Accomplishments:
Ms. Farren is a Certified Management Consultant and a Certified Facility Manager. She has been honored as an IFMA Fellow with the International Facility Management Association, where she served as President of the Greater NY chapter. She is the Former Director of Facilities with Time Warner, Inc.

Keywords:
Facility Management World Wide, FMWW, CMC, CFM, International Facility Management Association, IFMA Fellow, Hearst, Scholastic, Clear Channel, United Nations, Workspace design, Corporate move

Links:
NAPW: <http://www.napw.com/profile/10430385/Carol-Farren/>

